EXAMINER'S AMENMENT

The Examiner initiated a telephone interview with the Applicant (Mr. Kirk D. Williams 42,229) on 8/15/06. The examiner informed the Applicant that the computer readable medium recited in claims 15-19 and supported with description in page 9 to 10 of specification includes subject matters that make these claims non-statutory. The Applicant stated that on 3/3/06 an amendment to the specification has been filed to overcome the 101 related issues. However, the Applicant stated that he is willing to make further amendment to expedite the prosecution of the Application. Applicant made an amendment to specification and emailed on 8/15/06 a copy of the amendment to the Examiner. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Please amend the specification as follows:

Spec:

Page 1:

In page 1, line 6 after "10/215,719" insert --now U.S. Patent No. 7,103,708--

Replace the paragraph on page 9, starting with line 14 and ending on page 10, line 13 with the following:

--The term "storage mechanism" includes any type of memory, storage device or other mechanism for maintaining instructions or data in any format. "Computer-readable medium" is an extensible term including, but not limited to, any memory, storage device, storage mechanism, and/or other storage mechanism tangibly embodying computer-readable instructions and/or data. The term "memory" includes any random access memory (RAM), read only memory (ROM), flash memory, integrated circuits, and/or other memory components or elements. The term "storage device" includes, but is not limited to, any solid state storage media, disk drives, diskettes, networked services, tape drives, etc. Memories and storage devices may store computer-executable instructions to be executed by a processing element and/or control logic, and data which is manipulated by a processing element and/or control logic. The term "data structure" is an extensible term referring to any data element, variable, data structure, database, and/or one or more organizational schemes that can be applied to data to facilitate interpreting the data or performing operations on it, such as, but not limited to memory locations or devices, sets, queues, trees, heaps, lists, linked lists, arrays, tables, pointers, etc. A data structure is typically maintained in a storage mechanism. The terms "pointer" and "link" are used generically herein to identify some mechanism for referencing or identifying another element, component, or other entity, and these may include, but are not limited to a reference to a memory or other storage mechanism or location therein, an index in a data structure, a value, etc. The term "associative memory" is an extensible term, and refers to all types of associative memories, including, but not limited to, binary and ternary content addressable memories, hash tables, TRIE and other data structures, etc. Additionally, the term "associative memory unit" may include, but is not limited to one or more associative memory devices or parts thereof, including, but not limited to regions, segments, banks, pages, blocks, sets of entries, etc.--

The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance See

MPEP 1302.14

1. *The primary reason for allowance of claims 4-9, and 15-19 in instant application is the combination with the inclusion of following limitations: identifying a second set of access control list entries corresponding to a second feature of said plurality of access control list entries; programming a second associative memory bank and a second adjunct memory with second associative memory entries corresponding to the second set of access control list entries; wherein said first associative memory entries have a higher lookup precedence than said second associative memory entries.

2. *The primary reason for allowance of claims 10-14 in instant application is the combination with the inclusion of following limitations: performing substantially simultaneous lookup operations in the plurality of associative memories and adjunct memories to generate a plurality of second lookup results; and merge the plurality of second lookup results and the merged first result to identify a merged second result.

3. *The primary reason for allowance of claims 20-21 in instant application is the combination with the inclusion of following limitations: means for identifying a second set of access control list entries corresponding to a second feature of said plurality of access control list entries; means for programming a second associative memory bank and a second adjunct memory with second associative memory entries corresponding to the second set of access control list entries; wherein said first associative memory entries have a higher lookup precedence than said second associative memory entries.

4. *The primary reason for allowance of claims 22-23 in instant application is the combination with the inclusion of following limitations: means for performing substantially simultaneous lookup operations in the plurality of associative memories and adjunct memories to generate a plurality of second lookup results; and means for merging the plurality of second lookup results and the merged first result to identify a merged second result.

The prior art of record including the disclosures of Torkelsson et al. (2004/0111556 A1), Kansal et al. (6,374,326 B1 to), Kansal et al. (6,374,326 B1), Hauser et al. (5,748,905), neither anticipates nor renders obvious the above-recited combination.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance"
